ANNA UNIVERSITY

Anna University was established on 4th September 1978 as a unitary type of University to promote teaching and research in the field of Engineering, Technology, Architecture and Applied Sciences by bringing together the following prestigious institutions in Chennai.

- College of Engineering, Guindy (CEG)
- Alagappa College of Technology(ACT)
- Madras Institute of Technology (MIT)
- School of Architecture and Planning (SAP)

From 2012, Anna University was converted into an affiliating type of University, the largest technological University with 625 institutions under one umbrella to ensure uniform quality in Engineering education.

ABOUT THE SYMPOSIUM

The symposium focusses on water treatment, an area which is so vital and without which hardly any industry thrives. Emphasis will be on the current research and technology that are in vogue in almost all forms of industries where usage of water is crucial. The symposium is expected to cater to the needs of personnel working in avenues such as semiconductors, pharmaceuticals, cosmetics, foods, polymers, the petrochemical sector, drinking water, sewage and industrial waste water.
